CHARITABLE TRUST

The Trust is a Community

We build relationships for the common good. We dig in deep, shoulder to shoulder, helping nonprofits sharpen their approach and sustain their mission. Because when a powerful idea fulfills its promise, lives are changed, communities thrive and our entire region prospers.

The Trust helps support community-focused organizations at every level of their development through grants, enrichment programming and other resources.

A passionate team guided by the life and missional guidance of a business leader with a commitment to individuals, families and community flourishing.

We partner with nonprofits serving the Pacific Northwest, including Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington.

History

The M.J. Murdock Charitable Trust was founded in 1975 following the untimely passing of Jack Murdock, an innovative, entrepreneurial leader who left an indelible mark on the Pacific Northwest.

JACK MURDOCK

From day one, our mission has been to serve individuals, families and communities across the Pacific Northwest through grantmaking, enrichment programs and convenings that strengthen the region's educational, social, spiritual and cultural base in innovative and sustainable ways.

Strategic Project Grants

Capacity-building awards for mission-focused projects and infrastructure investment

Capital Grants

Grants that support construction, renovation, land purchase and other capital projects.

Equipment & Technology

A healthy equipment and supporting technology infrastructure is essential.

Program & Staff

Expanding programs and staff are important markers of nonprofit success.

Initiative Grants

A variety of grant programs focused on scientific research, education and calling

Undergraduate Colleges & Universities

The Trust supports five initiatives for science research at four-year undergraduate institutions across the Pacific Northwest.

Research Universities & Biomedical Institutes

We support groundbreaking research by helping to facilitate lab discoveries and bring innovation to where it's needed most.

Partners in Science

When high school science faculty can grow their skills and experience by participating in advanced research, their students and schools will benefit.

Vision & Call Internships

This initiative helps faith-based organizations across the Pacific Northwest develop internship programs for young adults.

THE STAGES AND STEPS INVOLVED IN THE TRUST'S STRATEGIC AND SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH GRANTS PROCESS

Discovery

The Trust has multiple resources to help your organization determine grant eligibility.

Submitting a Letter of Inquiry

A Letter of Inquiry (LOI) helps the Trust determine whether your organization and project are eligible and consistent with Trust practices. If so, you will be invited to submit a full application.

Submission & Review Process

If invited to submit an application, you will be invited to create an application in the Grants Portal.

Final Decision

While merit is evident in nearly every application received by the Trust, only a portion of the requests reviewed can result in awards.

Enrichment Programs

The Murdock Trust believes in building the capacity of organizations to help communities flourish and thrive. One way we work toward this goal is to offer programs that provide educational, mentorship, and relationship-building opportunities for the leaders who serve our nonprofits.

Jack Murdock was a people-focused leader. These programs allow us to continue his legacy by investing in the individuals who make our communities flourish.

~ Kimberly Thornbury, Senior Program Director for Enrichment Initiatives

Science Research & Education Programs

We offer a variety of activities that bring people, ideas and information together to produce transformative experiences around science research and education.

College Science Research

murdocktrust.org/collegescienceresearch

At this annual conference, faculty-student research teams share new knowledge created or discovered at colleges and universities funded by the Murdock College Science Research Program.

Partners in Science

murdocktrust.org/partnersinscience

To support our Partners in Science Program, which partners high school science teachers with research mentors, the Murdock Trust hosts both a national and a regional conference each year for research-sharing and professional development.

Leadership & Capacity Building Programs

These programs help nonprofit executives, board members, business and community leaders, young professionals and other influencers grow to better serve their organizations and communities.

Board Leadership & Development

murdocktrust.org/boardleadership

Part of our larger Board Leadership Initiative, which includes training, grant opportunities and resources, this program gives nonprofit organizations the insight, tools and templates for building board and staff capacity and creating a sustainable future.

Essentials of Development

murdocktrust.org/essentials

To help small to midsize organizations that are underachieving in their contributed income develop a comprehensive, sustainable development program.

Vision + Call

murdocktrust.org/visionandcall

This initiative helps faith-based organizations across the Pacific Northwest develop ministry internship programs for young adults. Our vision is to help give interns the opportunity to consider their vocational direction while gaining meaningful work experience in a special nonprofit setting.

Leadership Now

murdocktrust.org/leadershipnow

This annual event connects executive leaders of primarily faith-based organizations to encourage their personal and professional growth.

Women in Leadership

murdocktrust.org/womeninleadership

Women in Leadership is a series of gatherings that supports women nonprofit leaders in the Pacific Northwest to thrive in their leadership by developing skills, deepening character, growing spirituality, enhancing life practices and expanding networks.
